Chartered by the state of Georgia in 1785, the University of Georgia is the birthplace of public higher education in America — launching our nation’s great tradition of world-class public education. What began as a commitment to inspire the next generation grows stronger today through global research, hands-on learning and extensive outreach. A top value in public higher education, Georgia’s flagship university thrives in a community that combines a culture-rich college town with a strong economic center.

MISSION STATEMENT FOR OFFICE OF RECRUITMENT & DIVERSITY INITIATIVES

- The Graduate School promotes excellence in graduate education by recruiting and retaining top students to the University of Georgia. While striving to increase enrollment, the Graduate School seeks to embrace diversity and inclusion by growing the enrollment of first-generation students and students from historically underrepresented groups within their discipline.

- Every effort is made to facilitate a smooth transition for new graduate students from matriculation through graduation to heighten the graduate experience of all students. The Graduate School sponsors academic, professional, and social retention programs and activities, and serves as an advocate for students.
